

Guarding Gemini (UGS Constellation) (Volume 3)

How much can one woman take? Her mother is gone, her father has moved out, and now her car has chugged its last mile. Carol Denise Mithuna, whom everyone called her Denise, was at the end of her rope. What might have been the final straw, was actually a blessing in disguise! Working as a Meter Maid wasn't her dream job, but when she crashes quite literally into two men, her life is turned upside down and rockets into outer space! Raven and his identical twin brother, Hawk, are content with their lot in life. They're charge of communications and work in the security department for the UGS Constellation, when their lives are sent through an upheaval that will change everything. They're sent to rescue the UGS Second in Command, Tracker, after they lose contact with him for over twenty-four hours. What they'll discover on their mission is something completely different, and wholly delicious. Together, the three of them set out to solve a mystery that will bring them to new discoveries, dangerous situations, and deadly consequences. The least of which is Timuit, the scourge of the United Galactic Securities, who is sent to the Constellation to assist in the investigation of illegal clones, murder, and intrigue.
